

EKAI is a leading provider of quality training for the life sciences industry. We are dedicated to helping researchers to improve their knowledge and skills in pharmaceutical industry.

Two days workshop

High Performance Liquid Chromatography – Basic Principles HPLC Method development and troubleshooting problems

August 30–31, 2017, Zagreb, Croatia

SPEAKER:

Klara Valko, PhD, DSc,
FRSC; Stevenage, United Kingdom

Experienced and enthusiastic principal scientist and consultant supporting early drug discovery and lead optimization.

Leaving GSK after 22 years of service, now director of BioMimetic

Chromatography – Consultancy for Successful Drug Discovery providing data analysis, biomimetic HPLC method set up, in vivo drug distribution modelling and various courses.

She is a Honorary Professor at UCL School of Pharmacy and leading the Physchem/ADME module (London, UK) for Drug Discovery MSc for more than 10 years. She teaches 25 years the HPLC Fundamental course at UCL School of Pharmacy.

Date

Wednesday, August 30th, 9.30 – 16.30
(Registration and coffee 8.30 – 9.30)
Thursday, August 31st, 9.30 – 16.30

Venue

BICRO BIOCentar d. o. o.
Inkubacijski centar za bioznanosti
Borongajska cesta 83h
10 000 Zagreb

Participation fee

2450 kn + PDV (VAT)

The workshop fee is payable in advance after receipt of invoice and includes workshop documentation, lunch on both days and all refreshments.

Contact regarding content and registration

By e-mail: vesna.gabelica@gmail.com
+098 389 447

Conference language

The official workshop language will be English.

Organization

EKAI is organizer of this event.